For your safety and protection as well as the protection of the vacuum cleaner, the electric motor of this appliance is equipped with an automatic thermal protection device. The electric motor may automatically shut off if any one of the following occurs: Abnormal usage, clogging or blocking of any air passage, or a full dust bag.

CAUTION: ALWAYS UNPLUG CORD FROM ELECTRICAL OUTLET BEFORE PERFORMING MAINTENANCE.

If the thermal protection device shuts off the motor, unplug the vacuum cleaner and check the following.

1. Make sure the hose is not clogged with dirt or other objects.
2. Make sure the dust bag is not full.

It may take up to sixty minutes for the thermal protector to reset depending on the temperature of the motor, room temperature and other factors. When the motor cools sufficiently the thermal protector will automatically reset and the vacuum cleaner will become operational again.
